

The Drinks International Cocktail Challenge, now in its 18th year, has built a reputation for being the only truly independent cocktail competition in the world, attracting the highest calibre of entries from global brand owners, brand ambassadors and independent bar consultants. Once again this year, we are calling for entries from white spirits, brown spirits and liqueurs for all types of cocktails:

Long Drinks; After-Dinner and Apéritifs.

The first round will be held in February at Shaker UK in Central London. This qualifying round will be a blind tasting judged by a panel of industry experts with cocktails mixed by the Create Cocktails team. The cocktail finals will take place on 19th May at Distil, the spirits exhibition at the London International Wine Fair. Here, our judges will award a trophy in each category and the overall Cocktail Challenge Champion will be decided and awarded at the prestigious International Spirits Challenge dinner in November.

The results of the qualifying round will be published in the May issue of Drinks International and the finals in the July issue.

All results will be posted on drinksint.com

The Create Cocktails bar team will mix two of each cocktail recipe containing a minimum of three and a maximum of five ingredients. Drops and dashes are considered as an ingredient. Basic fruit juice, fresh egg white, non-alcoholic mixers and bitters are permitted but no homemade, previously blended ingredients or ice-cream will be allowed.

The judging will take place in February 2011 at Shaker UK in central London. Marks will be given out of 30 on a) presentation (10 points); and b) aroma, balance and taste (20 points). In this qualifying round, the judging panel will comprise of those with a thorough knowledge of the spirits industry. As this is a blind tasting, we may include specialists who work for a spirits company.

The top-scoring cocktails in each category will go through to the finals on 19 May at Distil, alongside the London International Wine Fair. At this stage, the judging is not blind and the panel will comprise of those not directly connected with the spirits industry but who have expertise in this field.

Finalists will be required to provide their own bartender or ask Drinks International to provide one at the finalist's own cost. Finalists are also required to provide all ingredients aside from ice, purées and glassware, unless entrants prefer to use their own. Two cocktails will be made for each recipe. A trophy winner from each category will be decided and compete for the overall Drinks International Cocktail Challenge Champion 2011, which will be presented at the International Spirits Challenge dinner in November. The results of the qualifying round will be published in the May issue of Drinks International and the finals in the July issue. All results will be posted on drinksint.com
